LISBON OF THE DISCOVERIES (Belém)

Portugal departed one day on voyages of discovery from the western beaches of Lisbon The beginning of our trip is in the Praça Afonso de Albuquerque next to the statue of this Vice-Roy of India located across from the Palácio de Belém and the Museu dos Coches. This tour is meant for all those that would like to know a little more about the area of Belém and its relationship with the Discoveries. For around 3 hours we will touch on aspects of Portuguese history from the 15th century to the present. Not to be forgotten are the best known historical buildings in the city of Lisbon , some of them classified as a UNESCO World Heritage. We enjoy the strong sea smell of an enjoyable walk along the riverside that ends at the Torre de Belém, symbol of Lisbon . Your guide will help you with suggestions of what else to do in this area or how to catch public transport to go to your next destination.
